The Turks were never resimed-If was no unstained this the press this disposition of their territory confronted with by the Paratyzed by their own conflicts of on the hours as something ambitions of Athens conflicted with to the vetrains of the world the dittermination of the Turks to secured it not four in insisting upon a peaceful distinct. The inevitable has hap powed. A war his been fought with terrible suffering to combatants and that it is impossible to some non-combatants allke, mony years after the civil war the who fought in 17 were ponsioned disabilities immerced in the during the period of enlistment, and finally Mr Roosevelt's dicrum that old one is a quadality was applied to

The president notes that in the arrient flucial year was are paying some than half a billion dollars on compitalization and care of sick and wounded, on compensation and vocational training for the disabled, and for incurance. Next year these items little short of a half a About 100,000 veterans are vocational training, nearly 20,000 have completed this training out many of these are carning more han they did before they entered the service. There has been poid to disabled men and their dependent colatives $450,000,000, and 175,000 d'sabled veterans are now receiving hospital care when needed. Those who have received nothing are the young, healthy men who came our of the war uninjured and who have torrily yet reached their maximum. earning capacity

Besides the loads made to our allies and the considerable part of our war expenses defrayed from taxation, the country incurred a debt of $15,000,000,000; and st will taky h long time to discharge this. We are still paying interest and pensions on account of the civil war. The country could not pay the bonus without levying additional laxation, and the butiness of the nation now is suffering from heavy laxes. Congress was ind sposed to levy a sales tax, which seemed to the president the only way of meeting the charge. A bond image of $3,000,000,000 or more would have had a very serious effect upon the business of the country. That the nation is in no position to pay the bonus was admir ed by the supporters of a bill which would have paid tue greater part of the bonus in three-year notes, which the recipients would have discounted, but at the expiration of the three years the country would have to levy a new tax to redeem the notes an arrange ; ment which was open to very serious objection.

But the injured voterans have received substantial evidences of the country's gratitude beyond anything previous in this or any other country and as all the survivors incur the further disability of old age they will undoubtedly be pensioned, and the scale of pensions has been rising care of the disabled and the old is really about all the country can do.

WHAT WAS THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS DOING?

While the allied powers, England, France and Italy, stand ineffective by, Greece and Turkey have been fighting a war which now comes to overwhelming disaster for Greece-The war settlement of 1919 gave to Greece a protectorship over that part of the eastern shore of the Aegean

A very little of the coand of 1914 would have prevented this A very little waiving of the imperialistic selfishness which ay at the root of the world war would have headed off this new war.
